

The Broadway Poetry Prize is one of Australia's most prestigious competitions for poetry. Sponsored by the Broadway Shopping Centre and the Poets Union, this year the prize for the winning poem is $3000.

The winning poem will be announced at the Australian Poetry Festival, Sydney, on 10 September.

This year the judges will be

Professor Elizabeth Webby
Associate Professor Peter Kirkpatrick

The winning poem will be published in the Poets Union journal Five Bells, and on the Poets Union website at www.poetsunion.com. The winning entry, together with the shortlisted poems, will be published by Picaro Press in booklet form and be available from the Union for $6.

Conditions of Entry

- The competition is open to all citizens and permanent residents of Australia. (Committee members of the Poets Union are ineligible.)
- Poems must not have been previously published, or be under consideration for publication, or for another poetry competition.
- No personal details may appear on the manuscript. Attach a separate entry form or cover sheet to each entry. The entry form can be downloaded from our website at www.poetsunion.com Feel free to copy the entry form.
- Please send three copies of each entry. Each copy must be typed, single-sided, on plain A4 paper. Sorry: faxed or emailed entries cannot be accepted.
- Include an SSAE for results and a receipt.
- The maximum length of each entry is 100 lines. The fee for each entry is $10, or $7 for financial members of the Poets Union. Please make your cheque or money order payable to The Poets Union Inc.
- The deadline for submissions is 28 July 2006; entries postmarked after this date will not be accepted.
- Submissions will not be returned.
- The decision of the judges will be final, and no correspondence will be entered into.

Receipts will be issued along with the results; please do not forget to include a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope with your entry.

The 2001 Broadway Poetry Prize winner was David Musgrave, for his poem 'Lagoon'; the 2002 winner was Norman Talbot for 'Seven NSW Sonnet-Forms'; and the 2004 winner was Ross Gillett for 'Indian Summer'. These poems, along with others which the judges chose to commend, have been collected into high-quality booklets available from the Poets Union for just $6 (including postage). You may also pre-order the 2006 booklet for the same low price. All profits will be used to help the Poets Union administer this year's Australian Poetry Festival. Place your order below.
